

Do I Love You? Video transcript

[Audio: Upbeat Instrumental music throughout]

The first clip shows a male character walking out of a building and taking off a cap. We then see him looking around before running down the street, stopping to look at his watch and continue running. Text on screen appears at the beginning that reads 'Do I Love You? By John Goober'.

A series of clips then show him meeting up with a female character, they hug and laugh before joining a dance floor and dancing together.

As the clips of the pair dancing together play, text on screen appears that reads 'The smash-hit sellout play returns'. The Northern soul logo appears above.

The screen fades to black and text on screen appears that reads 'Do I Love You? By John Goober'.
