

Suzi Ruffell: The Juggle video transcript

The video opens with the camera looking towards the audience as we see the back of comedian Suzi Ruffell on stage as part of her show. Text is shown reading, 'Suzi Ruffell'.

The footage cuts to a close-up of Suzi holding a microphone as she moves across the stage performing her show with her name in lights in the background.

"I was willing to believe that doctors, nurses, immunologists, people who spent their whole lives studying medicine know more than me. Me who has four GCSEs, a worry doll, and an AS level in contemporary dance."

A wide shot shows Suzi demonstrating a contemporary dance move.

[Audio: music plays]

The video cuts to a yellow background where text appears reading, 'She's back'.

Footage from Suzi's show appears where she gurns and pulls a funny face as she looks towards the audience.

The video cuts to a yellow background one more where text appears reading, 'With a new tour'.

Footage from Suzi's show shows her grimacing as she moves her head from side-to-side.

The video cuts to a yellow background again where a quote appears reading, 'A fabulously funny show from a class act. ★★★★★ Evening Standard'.

A wide-shot shows Suzi on stage as part of her show with her name in lights behind her.

"Is this offensive? I can't work it out."

She laughs nervously as the camera cuts to a close-up of the comedian as she screams.

The video cuts to a yellow background where a quote appears reading, 'A show that Ruffell pulls off with craft and charm. Guardian'.

This is followed by a close-up clip of Suzi performing as part of her show.

"I had a teenage growth spurt."

The camera pans to the audience with Suzi still visible on stage.

"The night before, mom says, "Go put it on, let's see how you look." It had divorced my ankles, married my knees and I had a camel toe..."

The footage switches to a close-up of Suzi on stage.

"...that was catching in the back of my throat."

She then mimics having something caught in her throat.

The video cuts to a promotional image of Suzi sat in a chair with the title of her show 'Suzi Ruffell: The Juggle' displayed next to her.

The show title fades out and further text appears reading, 'Tickets on sale now'.

**ends**