

Jack and the Beanstalk: trailer

[Audio: Upbeat instrumental music is played throughout]

The video begins with Mrs Bakewell (Sarah Bulmer) making a motion ahead of gesturing with their hands in the air before a wide shot of the show's cast and ensemble dancing whilst twirling ribbon.

The video cuts to Jack (Kieron Michael), Bridget (Lucy Davis) and Muddles (Jude Nelson) holding each other and looking scared. A series of clips are then played including a wide shot with five actors including one dressed as a goose flapping their wing; Bronwen the Cow (Susie Barrett) and Muddles fist bumping one another; and members of the cast and ensemble clapping and dancing from side-to-side.

A wide shot then shows cast and ensemble dancing before moving to a close-up of Professor Hang-claw (Adam Donaldson) and Bridget holding a bag. This is followed by a series of clips including a wide shot of Muddles in the forefront singing whilst the ensemble dance in the background; Jack and Bridget dancing around each other whilst singing; and one where Muddles enthusiastically throws their arm in the air and just avoiding hitting Jack.

A close-up shot shows Bronwen the Cow dancing before a wider shot shows Jack fall backwards as if falling asleep whilst cast and ensemble watch on. This is followed by a clip where Jack falls backwards into the arms of Muddles.

A series of clips shows Mrs Tinkler (Sarah Bulmer) singing and dancing as the ensemble dances in the background; Professor Hang-claw dancing with the ensemble in the background; and Agatha the Goose (Susie Barrett), Mr Gate Crush (Adam Donaldson) and Mrs Bakewell dancing in a wide shot with ensemble behind them.

The ensemble dances in the forefront whilst Bridget can be seen singing at the bottom of the beanstalk. This is followed by further clips where Muddles lifts their arms in the air to cast magic whilst Jack holds a book of spells; a wide shot of Bridget singing on the beanstalk as cast and ensemble watch on; and Mr Gate Crush laughing as Bridget runs away.

Muddles takes a golden egg from a nest and throws it for Jack to catch. Lighting flashes as five members of the cast look shocked on stage. A series of clips then show Professor Hang-claw talking to the audience; Jack and Bridget pointing at one another; and Professor Hang-claw leaning in to talk to Bronwen the Cow.

A wide shot shows Bridget and the ensemble dancing ahead of the final clip which shows Jack on one knee as he sings to Bridget.

A starry transition reveals artwork with the cast including the following information:
