

Ria Lina: transcript

Clips of Ria Lina stood on stage. She says throughout the video “The medical community really needs to hand over the naming of conditions to the people that have them, right? Do you think dyslexics would pick something they could spell? My mom started perimenopause at thirty-five years old because she's Asian so she's efficient. So, I turned to my friends who have far more experience in the dating apps than I do and I said listen help me out here, what am I doing wrong on these dates? And they said, well, are you being yourself on the date? And I said, yeah, I 'am. And they said, well that's the problem”.
