

Robyn Hood trailer transcript

The Fidget Theatre logo appears on screen. A series of clips play showing the cast singing, dancing and acting on stage.

Text on screen appears that reads 'Fidget Theatre presents Robyn Hood. Written & Directed by Ruth Cooper & Andrea Heaton.'

As the clips continue to play, more text appears on screen. "Children's theatre at its best" Yorkshire Times'.

Another review appears on screen that reads "'Great story and singing. Loved it!" Audience Member'.

Followed by more text, "'Perfectly captures the imagination of the young and young at heart" Yorkshire Times'.

Another review appears on screen that reads "'I liked how we were outlaws and joined in!" Audience Member'.

A male voiceover is heard as the clips play throughout the video. "The magic of our story begins to grow and grow. It grows and swirls on the wind. Up and up round the mighty trees. The trees were stood for years. Robin and all the outlaws set off for the sheriffs castle. Along the winding path through the woods. A stories of heroes and villains and adventures swirled around them. They were all together. With a plan and a song and voices which needed to be heard.

Text on screen appears that reads 'Touring 2025. Fidgettheatrecompany@gmail.com. Fidgettheatre.com'. Logos also appear on screen for Fidget Theatre, Leeds Play House, Leeds Art Council and Arts Council England.

ends