

Christmas Eve: trailer

[Audio: Upbeat instrumental festive music is played throughout]

The video begins with a side profile of Eve (Caitlin Fairlamb) talking:

Eve: "Is somebody hiding from me?"

The video cuts to Eve shaking the hand of Lumi - a fairy-like puppet.

Eve: "Nice to meet you, Lumi."

Eve stands on stage wearing a Christmas jumper with stained-glass windows behind them. They puts their hands on their hips as they speak and the camera moves closer to them.

Eve: "Now, we have a Christmas to save!"

A close-up of Eve as they throw their hands in the air in celebration is followed by a clip of Gobbler (Sarah Boulter) dancing. The next clip shows a close-up of Eve's mam (Sarah Boulter) in conversation:

Mam: "I'm not feeling very festive. I think I've lost my Christmas spirit."

Eve can be seen saluting as an army general (Sarah Boulter) stands with their arms behind their back:

General: "Insubordination!"

A close-up of Eve in conversation as the camera pans to show them talking to their mam:

Eve: "You believe us that there's a fairy under Framwellgate Bridge?"

Lumi can be seen flying as her wings move up and down which is followed by a wide shot of Eve wearing a back pack pointing a torch ahead of a close-up shot of the same scene:

Eve: "I'm sorry, I didn't mean to scare you."

Eve speaks to Lumi who is now sat on their shoulder:

Eve: "There must be a way to stop evil Gobbler."

Gobbler is seen with a telescope before the video cuts to Lumi sat behind Eve as Eve sits with their backpack on. Lumi narrates in the background:

Lumi: "Gobbler wasn't always evil."

The video cuts to Gobbler who walks out as they sing:

Gobbler: "Deck the halls with gloom and glitter."

Eve kneels to speak with Lumi in a close-up shot which cuts to a wide-shot of the conversation:

Eve: "I need your help to bring back me mam's Christmas spirit."

Gobbler speaks angrily to a crowd as Lumi watches on from the side before the video cuts to a close-up of Lumi covering their mouth:

Gobbler: "What is that smell?"

Gobbler can then be seen at the forefront of the video as they sniff before the video reverts to a wide shot of Gobbler and Lumi:

Gobbler: "It smells like...human!"

A close-up of Gobbler as they turn and shout before jumping up and down in a tantrum:

Gobbler: "No, you big wit! Durham is mine! Mine, mine, mine!"

The army general appears from behind a series of tassel:

General: "Don't you all agree?"

A clip of Eve as they shine a torch towards their face addressing the audience:

Eve: "Here we are. Underneath Framwellgate Bridge."

A wide shot shows Gobbler laughing as Eve wobbles to a standing position. Gobbler moves towards Eve and mocks them.

Gobbler: "Haha! Nice try, figgy pudding face."

Eve and her mam wear Christmas jumpers as they sing:

Eve and Mam: "Christmas is our favourite time of year!"

Gobbler has their fingers on their forehead in an 'L' shape:

Gobbler: "Losers!"

Artwork displaying a silhouette of the Durham City skyline and a starry night with the Northern Lights is revealed which details the following information:

A Gala Durham Production

Christmas Eve

Written by Benjamin Storey

Directed by Stan Hodgson

Tuesday 2 to Wednesday 24 December

Tickets: £10 (£35 family ticket min. one under 16)

03000 266 600

galadurham.co.uk

The Gala Durham logo is also displayed.

ends