

Ballet Black at 25: All Towards Hope: Trailer

[Audio: jaunty piano music plays throughout the video]

[Text: All Towards Hope, choreography by Hope Boykin.]

Eight ballet dancers are on the stage initially before the video cuts to a closeup of two of the dancers and then another shot of all eight on the stage again.

Two dancers do a twirl together in the centre of the stage before two lots of three dancers can be seen under lights at either side of the stage.

Six dancers spin in the centre of the stage.

The screen goes dark and two dancers are approached by another dancer from the right of the stage.

The dancers are in a line move away from the camera one-by-one. All eight then appear again and dance.

Two dancers appear and perform various ballet movements before a quick-cut shows a group of dancers dancing.

A close-up shows a dancer performing as others dance around them. One dancer is now centre-stage and lowers her arms before the screen goes blank.
