A red background is present throughout the entirety of the video. The show title is replaced as a transition reveals Susie Dent who speaks directly to camera.

[Audio: Susie: Would you like to unlock the secrets of the English Language?]

Susie is now positioned to the left of the screen with the following text visible throughout the video.

[Text: Susie Dent. Word Perfect. Tickets on sale now. Tickets available via nothird.co.uk and direct from venues.]

The logos for Instagram and X are displayed in the bottom-left of the screen with her social media handles @susiedent on Instagram and @susie_dent on X displayed throughout the video.

[Audio: Susie: I'm Susie Dent, and I would be delighted if you would join me for my brand-new theatre show, Word Perfect, which is coming this year.]

As Susie speaks, part of the text is replaced with the following.

[Text: A brand-new tour of the joys of English with Britain's favourite wordsmith.]

The text then disappears and Susie is moved to the centre of the video as she continues to talk.

[Audio: Susie: Together, we will dive into the fascinating origins of words, discover some long forgotten phrases and wonder at the quirks of the English language, and of course, you can also come along with your own questions about words and phrases that have long puzzled you. It will be an evening of words, wit, wisdom and linguistic delight.]

The video cuts to artwork of the tour where Susie stands in the centre, surrounded by the following text:

[Audio: Susie: I can't wait to see you at a theatre near you.]

There is a slight change in the artwork image displayed which displays a list of Susie's tour dates including Gala Theatre, Durham on 12 September 2026.
