

Back to the Future: Trailer

[Audio: light-hearted music plays throughout]

The Park Circus logo appears on screen followed by the Universal logo.

[Audio: Marty McFly, played by Michael J Fox: Mom. I had a horrible nightmare, I dreamed I went back in time.]

We see an image of a street in an American town. Marty appears on screen with a dog. Lorraine Baines-McFly, played by Lea Thompson, appears on screen. She is silhouetted in front of a window.

[Audio: Lorraine: Well, you're safe and sound now, back in good old 1955.]

Marty is in bed as his eyes widen.

[Audio: Marty: 1955?]

A hand appears on screen in front of the flux capacitor. Two dates are shown – present time October 26 1985 and destination time 5 November 1955.

[Audio: the background music changes to The Power Of Love by Huey Lewis & The News]

Flamed tyre marks appear on the screen before a lightning flash reveals some text:

[Text: This year]

[Audio: Marty: Wait a minute, Doc.]

The DeLorean flashes by ahead of an overhead view of the car. Moving numbers appear on screen. Marty and Doctor Emmett, played by Christopher Lloyd, appear on screen as flamed tyre marks go underneath their legs. Doc is holding a controller with a large aerial.

[Audio: Marty: Are you telling me you built a time machine out of a DeLorean?]

Two flashes of flames appear on screen before a lightning flash reveals some text.

[Text: Go back]

Doc pushes Marty out of the way as the DeLorean appears.

[Audio: Doc: The way I see it- if you're going to build a...]

The silver Delorian skids sideways on screen and we see a close-up of one of its wheels.

[Audio: Doc: ...time machine into a car, why not do it with some style!]

[Audio: the background music changes to Back To The Future by Alan Silvestri]

Flashes of flames appear on screen again revealing further text.

Marty sits in a diner with George McFly, played by Crispin Glover.

[Audio: Biff Tannen, played by Thomas F. Wilson: Hey McFly!]

Three men walk into the diner, led by Biff, and a waiter can be seen in the background before the shot cuts to Doc and Marty again.

[Audio: Doc: This is a big one, the one I've been waiting for all my life!]

George and Marty appear again and a waitress can be seen in the background, ahead of a close-up of Marty in a bedroom.

[Audio: Marty: You're my mom!]

Lorraine appears briefly, before a quick-cut to Doc who is wearing safety goggles with a saxophone next to him.

[Audio: Doc: Huh!]

The flashes of flames appear again revealing further text.

[Text: The best looking version of all time]

A close-up of a moving skateboard appears on screen before a man playing the guitar is blown backwards. The video shows a music hall full of people and then Marty uses a skateboard to jump onto a car bonnet. Four men are in the car.

The screen cuts to a clock tower as lightning strikes, followed by a close-up of Marty and then of Doc.

[Audio: Doc: 1.21 Gigawatts!]

There is a lightening flash which strikes the top of the clocktower. A clock counts up and an analogue clock next to it shows it's ten o'clock. The DeLorean speeds through a street before George punches Biff. George leans in to kiss Lorraine.

A close-up of Marty struggling is followed by electric charging through an overhead cable. Doc pushes two cables together ahead of the DeLorean disappearing as it drives up a street.

[Audio: Doc: Marty, we're sending you back to the future!]

The DeLorean flies through the air.
